In 2010, Bellco Closed More Than 1,400 Colorado Home Loans

GREENWOOD VILLAGE, Colo. (Aug. 4, 2011) – Bellco Credit Union was recently recognized in the July 22 edition of the Denver Business Journal for the total value of home loans it closed in 2010, ranking Bellco as the 10th most active financial institution in providing mortgages in Colorado.

“For more than 75 years, Bellco’s approach has been to maintain a balanced financial plan for our institution. This approach has allowed us to continue providing quality loans, including mortgages, for our customers even in challenging economic times,” said John Ruby, Chief Lending Officer for Bellco Credit Union. “As a not-for-profit credit union, this ranking illustrates how Bellco is committed to Colorado and reinvesting our resources in the local communities we serve.”

In 2010, Bellco closed more than 1,400 Colorado home loans for their customers. These credit union mortgages totaled more than $255 million in value, adding a significant economic impact to the communities served by Bellco, which is locally owned and offers 15 branches throughout Colorado.

The Denver Business Journal’s list of the Denver-Area Top Mortgage Companies included both residential and commercial loans and ranked the companies by the total dollar volume of Colorado loans closed. Bellco was the only credit union included on the Denver Business Journal’s list of top mortgage companies.
